

Finding your Sustainability

Presented by

January 28, 2012

Everyone talks about it. What is this thing we call sustainability? As a landscape professional, what does sustainability mean to you? And, where do we go from here?

Come join us for an informative workshop featuring leading landscape design industry experts sharing knowledge and resources to help you navigate through the complexities of sustainable practices.

Register Today!

- Water Wisdom for Landscape Designers by Loren Radford of Radford Landcraft
- New Directions in Technology: Latest trends in productivity tools for landscape professionals
- Bridging the Gap: Bringing Ecology into Created Landscapes for Sustainability by Rick Martinson of Wintercreek Restoration
- Exploration in Creativity: Hands-on Landscape Design Workshop
- Best Practices to Reduce, Reuse and Recycle Hardscape Materials: Panelist Discussion with Dave Barmon of Fiddlehead Landscapes, Patrick McNurney of McMenamins, Tom Patzkowski of Rebuilding Center
- Landscape Book Swap: Bring a landscape or horticultural book, take a book!

Earn up to 5 CEHs during this one-day event.

Date & Time

Saturday, January 28, 2012
8:30 am - 4:00 pm

Location

Portland Community College
Rock Creek Campus
17705 NW Springville Rd
Portland, Oregon 97229

Register

<http://www.ANLD.com>

Questions?

Lindy Rutherford
cloudylindy@hotmail.com
503.504.5083

Parking, continental breakfast and catered buffet lunch provided.